Memorial Diamonds from ashes or hair

Losing a loved-one need not be the end

Pets, partners, lovers and friends can now be memorialised in the form of a real 'created' diamond to keep forever.

Diamonds are naturally made from carbon. Ashes and hair can be converted to pure carbon and used in the creation of a real diamond in a laboratory.

Our memorial diamonds are not CZ, moissanite or low grade synthetics, they have exactly the same properties as mined diamonds, cut and polished they replicate the rarest of fancy diamonds found in nature.

Just 35-40 grams of ashes or hair is all that is required to create a .25 carat to 1 carat round canary diamond.
