

Phoenix Memorial Diamonds

Your pet, your best friend, your constant companion on a cold night, so many years of love and devotion, these fond memories need not be lost and forgotten. It is possible to memorialize your loved-one in the form of a real but 'Created' diamond made from either cremation ashes, hair, nail clippings. Just 35-40 grams is all that is needed to make a unique real diamond to keep and treasure forever.

We understand the grief of losing your pet can be heart breaking, but if you do desire to memorialize your pet with us – you may need to consider speaking to your vet, groomer or carer or call us to make the arrangements whilst it is still possible.

You may not have planned this day, it may have come as a shock to realize the situation, you may not have the funds now but you may have the desire, all it takes is someone to collect and keep the 'material' for the future if you are thinking of a unique memorial diamond.
